OPERATING DETAILS:

Student organizations are groups whose membership is comprised of students currently enrolled at Mississippi University for Women. Recognized student organizations are afforded certain privileges and are expected to adhere to guidelines set forth by the Office of Student Life and the University in order to retain recognition. Expectations and annual requirements of recognized student organizations can be found in the Office of Student Life.

A student organization must be recognized by the Office of Student Life in order to obtain campus privileges. For those interested in chartering a new registered organization, contact the Office of Student Life for chartering procedures.
